In the midst of massive hatred, murders, bombings, and death the world over, this image reminds us that there is still good and beauty in this world if we seek, cherish, nourish, and protect it. It takes courage, resilience, and determination. Thus, Beauty Among the Thorns—but WE who revere freedom, brotherhood, and Love of God MUST be active for the Good to Triumph Over evil. There is no other way...This bush has thorns that exceed 4-to-6 inches, and if injected in the skin, causes months of pain and soreness before complete healing can occur.

“I can complain because rose bushes have thorns or rejoice because thorn bushes have roses.” ~ Anonymous. ~
