

Now I lay me down to sleep,
Worn and weary, bone-tired deep.
Bless those, Lord, we oh so Love,
Give them Strength as from Above.
Family here, gone too soon,
Grace, I pray, fill this room.
Honor, Glory, Praise to Thee,
Let not my Faith flee from me.

Quick note at this Before-the-rooster-knows-I'm-up-hour. I have now heard from all of you less one person, and I am in the process of getting that person up and going. I see that a few new submissions have been posted to the Gradebook via the attachment process with the assignments posted in Blackboard Learning Communities. I am asking again...if you do not know how to attach your files, please, let me know. Send me an email every hour on the hour until we resolve this.

For the MIS in Bus Group, I think your progress is well underway and your projects are beginning to take shape or at least reach initial mass (the very early stages of critical mass); for the DreamWeaver web design class, I see that your work is also underway---good! For the ePortfolio, I had asked for a few things, but haven't seen them yet. We will be reaching initial mass in a critical mass way...

For all of you, thanks for your work. We have sufficient time to reach the goals of the courses and I want to tell you again that I am here to help. I am thinking about setting up a live session and recording it in Blackboard Collaborate so that I can respond to questions, so that will be coming soon.

It's a very long drive from Georgia back home, so I am going to get a bit of respite before the rooster stops by and does his arr-arr-arr-arr-arr (translation: arr-arr-arr-arr-arr!).

Last thing: I want to encourage all of you also to do the best you can in the courses and don't drop-out/stop-out. If you will do what you can as time permits and as best you can as time permits, I will do the same on this end. As korny/cornie/goofy/NOT/Oh Man! (Swiper if you know who I speak of)/old fashioned/and et al., as it may sound, I am a teamwork believer. Teamwork is just that; we are a team and we work. We practice, learn, and progress. But, we gotta share ideas, comments, Discussion Boards, etc. My goal is your success and as korny/cornie/goofy/NOT/Oh Man! (Swiper if you know who I speak of)/old fashioned/and et al., as it may sound, I am sincere in that. Don't give up, don't stop trying, and don't drop out because it seems you can't be successful. You can and you will if you stay the course! (Pun intended). Please keep me informed, provide feedback, be diligent, be persistent, and keep after your instructor if you need something, whatever that may be.

If you don't know where to start or what to do, you have my permission to say, "Hey out there, Dr. Instructor, or teacher, or you on the other end of this connection...I need help, this is the help I need, and I need it now!" I been there, done that, and I asked for help often and when needed. I was informing, feedbacking, diligent, persistent, and asked when I needed something. I was, you might say, a bit of a pest, but you know what...being a student and a pest is a good thing. Just being a pest for the sake of being a pest is not, but when you are learning or earning a degree, studentesting is a good thing. So get to it! :)

Once again, I urge you all to keep me informed of progress/problems. I'm not the "enemy" and I don't sit around and read your emails and make a face and throw up my hands and shout about those crazy people! As I have noted previously, I have been where you are for so many years, I am very partial to your pains/struggles as I have had those for so long they are some of my better friends (now that I have them as friends). Don't wait until you think I should "know" something, inform me; don't hesitate to ask for something, unasked questions are those most likely to have solved your issues; don't assume that I will be less than flattering if you ask for help, geeze never think like that; and, know that I am on your side, understanding, lenient, but our goals must be reached, even if we reach them and our backpacks are not as full as we might have liked. If we don't get all the moonrocks, let's for the sake of Heaven, get as many as we can in the journey!

NOTE....for the ePortfolio class, please send me a resume in pdf format as soon as you can. I will use it to send you a template posthaste.

Best to you all,
DrK

Now I lay me down to sleep,
Worn and weary, bone-tired deep.
Bless those, Lord, we oh so Love,
Give them Strength as from Above.
Family here, gone too soon,
Grace, I pray, fill this room.
Honor, Glory, Praise to Thee,
Let not my Faith flee from me.

5/16/12

BS4458E2012SU: Cleaned Up Version of Last Email...sorry bout that... - Outlook Web Access Light

Office Outlook Web Access

Type here to search

This Folder

Address Book

Options

Log Off

Mail

Reply

Reply to All

Forward

Move

Delete

Close

Deleted Items (582)

Drafts (10)

Inbox (687)

Junk E-mail

Sent Items

Click to view all folders

Summer2012 (77)

Manage Folders...

BS4458E2012SU: Cleaned Up Version of Last Email...sorry bout that..

Dr. Kenneth Scott [kenscott@amridgeuniversity.edu]

Sent: Wednesday, May 16, 2012 4:35 AM

Quick note at this Before-the-rooster-knows-I'm-up-hour. I have now heard from all of you less one person, and I am in the process of getting that person up and going. I see that a few new submissions have been posted to the Gradebook via the attachment process with the assignments posted in Blackboard Learning Communities. I am asking again...if you do not know how to attach your files, please, let me know. Send me an email every hour on the hour until we resolve this.

For the MIS in Bus Group, I think your progress is well underway and your projects are beginning to take shape or at least reach initial mass (the very early stages of critical mass); for the DreamWeaver web design class, I see that your work is also underway---good! For the ePortfolio, I had asked for a few things, but haven't seen them yet. We will be reaching initial mass in a critical mass way...

For all of you, thanks for your work. We have sufficient time to reach the goals of the courses and I want to tell you again that I am here to help. I am thinking about setting up a live session and recording it in Blackboard Collaborate so that I can respond to questions, so that will be coming soon.

It's a very long drive from Georgia back home, so I am going to get a bit of respite before the rooster stops by and does his arr-arr-arr-arr (translation: arr-arr-arr-arr!).

Last thing: I want to encourage all of you also to do the best you can in the courses and don't drop-out/stop-out. If you will do what you can as time permits and as best you can as time permits, I will do the same on this end. As korny/comie/goofy/NOT/Oh Man! (Swiper if you know who I speak of)/old fashioned/and et al., as it may sound, I am a teamwork believer. Teamwork is just that; we are a team and we work. We practice, learn, and progress. But, we gotta share ideas, comments, Discussion Boards, etc. My goal is your success and as korny/comie/goofy/NOT/Oh Man! (Swiper if you know who I speak of)/old fashioned/and et al., as it may sound, I am sincere in that. Don't give up, don't stop trying, and don't drop out because it seems you can't be successful. You can and you will if you stay the course! (Pun intended). Please keep me informed, provide feedback, be diligent, be persistent, and keep after your instructor if you need something, whatever that may be.

If you don't know where to start or what to do, you have my permission to say, "Hey out there, Dr. Instructor, or teacher, or you on the other end of this connection...I need help, this is the help I need, and I need it now!" I been there, done that, and I asked for help often and when needed. I was informing, feedbacking, diligent, persistent, and asked when I needed something. I was, you might say, a bit of a pest, but you know what...being a student and a pest is a good thing. Just being a pest for the sake of being a pest is not, but when you are learning or earning a degree, studentpestering is a good thing. So get to it! :)

Once again, I urge you all to keep me informed of progress/problems. I'm not the "enemy" and I don't sit around and read your emails and make a face and throw up my hands and shout about those crazy people! As I have noted previously, I have been where you are for so many years, I am very partial to your pains/struggles as I have had those for so long they are some of my better friends (now that I have them as friends). Don't wait until you think I should "know" something, inform me; don't hesitate to ask for something, unasked questions are those most likely to have solved your issues; don't assume that I will be less than flattering if you ask for help, geeze never think like that; and, know that I am on your side, understanding, lenient, but our goals must be reached, even if we reach them and our backpacks are not as full as we might have liked. If we don't get all the moonrocks, let's for the sake of Heaven, get as many as we can in the journey!

NOTE....for the ePortfolio class, please send me a resume in pdf format as soon as you can. I will use it to send you a template posthaste.

Best to you all,
DrK

Now I lay me down to sleep,
Worn and weary, bone-tired deep.
Bless those, Lord, we oh so Love,
Give them Strength as from Above.
Family here, gone too soon,
Grace, I pray, fill this room.

Honor, Glory, Praise to Thee,
Let not my Faith flee from me.