DPT291 Case Study in Computer Science: Course Notes:

TOPIC OF STUDY: CASE STUDY/PROJECT MANAGEMENT

- FALL, SPRING, & SUMMER: 2012 - 2015;
USE YOUR SYLLABUS AS A GUIDE FOR THE DUE DATES/MATERIALS;
- For attendance, you MUST sign in to Moodle each week and you MUST respond to the Weekly Email Distribution List Cogitation Question. Failure to do EACH of these will constitute an A for that week. You should carefully consult your syllabus for absences and being dropped from the course;
- You are required to attend orientation, midterm (when applicable), final AND presentation;
- Instructor Phone: 334.420.4392
- Instructor Email: kscott@trenholmstate.edu and skinner777@knology.net;
- Any problems with email and/or Moodle, capture the problem and submit to your instructor via email.

DPT291 Case Study Introduction/PROJECT MANAGEMENT:

You should review the Course Introduction materials in the first three-to-five days of the course. Any information that is questionable or not easily understood, please contact your instructor. Also, it is very important to read the textbook and/or assigned readings in this course. However, one of the most vital concerns that you may have or should have as a learning community participant is to be progressive during the semester. Time management is the absolute key to success in this course. Do a bit of work each week, and do this consistently. The work accululates rather rapidly if you postpone work on a weekly basis. I'm here to help you in any way that I can if you will give me the opportunity to do so. But, YOU MUST BE CONSISTENT in your efforts. Oh...and one more thing...the sections related to the Library and Course Readings are useful materials as you have time to review/read them. Thanks much, Dr. Scott...
